The Week of Homecoming:

This year's Homecoming Week turned out pretty good, thanks to the cheerleaders! The '97 Cheerleaders; Leslie Campbell, April Harding, Sarah Hecox, Cirese Hone, and Chelsea Lee, decorated the hallway in our school colors, for spirit week. Each day, we had a different attire for events in the past.

Monday: Pajama Day

Tuesday: 50's Day

Wednesday: Hippie Day

Thursday: Opposite Sex Day

Friday: Spirit Day

Friday night after the home football game, the Homecoming dance was held in the main hallway of the school.

Thanks Cheerleaders, and anyone who participated with school spirit throughout the week!!

The first cloned mammal was a sheep named Dolly. Created by scientists in Scotland in '97. Dolly is the exact genetic copy of her mother. A second clone, Polly was announced five months later. Polly has a human gene which scientists hope will allow the sheep to produce a human protein in its milk. This discovery could help people who are sick due to a lack of this protein.

Princess Diana of the United Kingdom and Nobel Peace Prize winner, Mother Teresa of Calcutta, India died within days of each other. Both were known around the world for their good work. Diana died August 31, 1997, in a car crash in Paris. In the final years of her life, the Princess worked for many causes, including AIDS research and the movement to ban land mines. Mother Teresa - who was often called a living saint - started health clinics, orphanages, and took care of the hungry and dying.

X Sports are the buzz

Extreme sports were the buzz for thrill seekers of all ages this year. We climbed higher, pushed harder, and reached the outer limits-more than ever before. Skateboarding, rollerblading, snow boarding, climbing, and ropes courses were all part of the wild ride we took into adventure sports. From ramps and half pipes to indoor climbing walls, wheels and rails were everywhere. And while we played in the great outdoors, we wore the latest fuzzy fashion called "fleece."

Cool Pets

No, not the real life pets, but toy pets were hot this year-Beanie Babies and those electronic virtual critters called Tamagotchis (pronounced Tah-Ma-Got-Cheese). Beanies, under-stuffed beanbag animals that came named with a short poem printed on their heart-shaped tag, were cute and huggable. A Tamagotchi appeared as a mini pet on a tiny screen that required the owner to feed and care for it by pushing the buttons to watch it grow.

In 1997-98, teens topped the music charts. 14-year-old LeAnn Rimes' single, Blue, sold 100,000 copies its first week. After earning seven awards at the Grammys, the American Music Awards, and the American Country Awards, LeAnn said, "I'm not an overnight success. I've been at this since I was 6."

ESBIE PARICCIOLO RETNA

16-year-old straight-A student Jonny Lang released his album, Lie To Me, this year. When asked about his young age and phenomenal rise he said, "I want people to make a judgment on me as a musician, without anything else clouding the issue, like my age."
